MICK O'DEA BLACK AND TAN

Black and Tan is an exhibition of portraits re-imagined through old photographs using charcoal and Indian textured paper. O'Dea brings to bear his wealth of experience as a painter of the human face and body; and as a landscape artist consciously receptive to the ever-shifting patterns of light. Throughout Black and Tan, previously inanimate faces are lit up by living warmth and personality as the artist re-captures a depth in light as it falls across shoes, buckles and straps in a Dublin street or a Cork Barracks.

Druid Theatre Company presents

THE SILVER TASSIE

by Seán O'Casey

Directed by Garry Hynes

Druid is back with a show you simply won't want to miss. This sweeping play follows the lives of two young footballing heroes from the tenements of Dublin through the battlefields of France, and their return home.

Using all the resources of the theatre including live music and dance, this is an epic staging of one of Seán O'Casey's great plays.

Tony Award-winner Garry Hynes directs a cast of 19 – Druid's biggest ever company of actors – and welcomes back Druid favourites including Aaron Monaghan, Eamon Morrissey and Derbhle Crotty.

A WAKE IN THE WEST

by MJ Ginnelly

This is a story of a wake like no other, with everyone, including the corpse getting in on the comedy. Not content with drinking himself to death, Tom Healy makes a last request to be buried in the drink, (at sea). His wish creates havoc in his house and in his local community. In this riot of a comedy, his neighbours vie with each other to secure a piece of Tom before his exit. This absolute madcap evening of fun and frolics will have you splitting your sides with laughter.

MAURICE QUILLINAN

SUMMER STRETCHING OVER GRASS

'Virtually all of my paintings are set around dawn.

There are many reasons for this but the most important one is that dawn is a new beginning, a chance to start afresh. It is also the time of day when most people are asleep and there is a sense that one is stealing time, operating in a subtime.' In this exhibition, Quillinan describes the experience of the landscape as near to reality as is possible on the flat surface of the canvas' which are worked over many times, leaving behind a textured layering of the incoming visual and physical experience.

AN EVENING WITH BELL X1

Celebrating the 10th Anniversary of the release of their debut album, Neither Am I, Bell X1 are pleased to announce a special acoustic tour of Ireland this November which will see them return after a long hiatus to some of the venues they played on that first album tour.

Having just played a key slot on the Main Stage at Oxegen 2010, the band are looking forward to stripping things back and performing songs from the entire catalogue as well as debuting some new ones.

JASON BYRNE 2010

Fresh from a 14th sell out year at the Edinburgh Festival Jason Byrne takes his fringe show to all his favourite Irish venues. Jason Byrne is probably the most exciting live stand up performer in the world today. His inspired, original brand of high-energy lunacy ensures that there is no other comedian presently like him. His fast, free-wheeling style, fused with an array of offbeat props, makes his act a helter-skelter of a show - where the audience is promised the ride of their lives.

PRESTON REED

Most great guitarists would be grateful to create a legacy of classic recordings, stand-out performances and blistering technique, but US-born Preston Reed has gone much further by inventing an entirely new way of playing the guitar. Reed fuses chord-based grooves, soaring melodic runs and polyrhythmic percussion with his breathtaking two-handed style.

Preston Reed has to be seen live to be believed.

HOWARD MARKS, AKA MR. NICE

Howard Marks comes to glór to talk about his fascinating lifestyle and his fight for a just society.

During the mid 1980s, Marks had forty-three aliases, eighty-nine phone lines, and twenty five companies trading throughout the world. Bars, recording studios, offshore banks: all were money-laundering vehicles serving the core activity: dope dealing. At the height of his career, he was smuggling consignments of up to thirty tons from Pakistan and Thailand to America and Canada and had contact with organisations as diverse as the CIA, MI6, the IRA, and the Mafia.

FRED

Like Sly & The Family Stone in a swordfight with the Flaming Lips, refereed by Brian Wilson is how The Irish Times described Fred. Fred's third album, Go God Go, was received with such critical mass it is being honed as one of the strongest Irish releases of the decade.
