DIRECTED BY MIKA KAURISMÄKI, GERMANY /
BRAZIL / FINLAND, 2002, 105 MINS

Director, Mika Kaurismäki's road movie, Moro no Brasil is not only an impressive documentary on the many multicultural rhythms and facets of Brazilian music, but also evidence of his passion for the country. Deliberately avoiding the usual suspects, he concentrates instead on musicians, singers and dancers he met on his travels, most of them unknown outside their own communities.

Murderball

DIRECTED BY HENRY-ALEX RUBIN & DANA ADAM SHAPIRO, USA / CANADA, 2004, 85 MINS, 15A

Murderball is the result of a 36 month all-access pass to locker rooms, bedrooms, churches, and hospitals. It's a film about relearning everything you've ever known. It's a film about standing up, even after your spirit, and your spine, have been crushed. This is a roller-coaster ride of human drama, athletic excellence, and heart-stopping competition.

SUNDAY 1 APRIL 8PM

€7 (INCLUDES TEA/COFFEE)

Fateless

DIRECTED BY LÁJOS KOLTAI, HUNGARY / GERMANY / UK, 2005, 134 MINS, 12A

Based on a semi-autobiographical story, the film follows a 14 year old Hungarian Jewish boy as he is separated from his family and interned in a succession of Nazi concentration camps. Amid the deprivation and brutality, he takes solace in the kindness of an array of characters. Fateless offers an incisive, unflinching view of personal despair and tenacious perseverance.

Volver

DIRECTED BY PEDRO ALMODÓVAR, SPAIN, 2006, 120 MINS, 15A

Volver comes at family secrets and generation gaps from several angles, looking at the split-second impulses that hide the truth - literally. Raimunda's routine is seriously destabilised when her long-dead mother, Irene, begins making appearances in their hometown, and is soon setting about righting some wrongs she was unable to redress before.

SUNDAY 15 APRIL 8PM

€7 (INCLUDES TEA/COFFEE) GLÓR FRIENDS: 2 FOR 1

Offside

DIRECTED BY JAFAR PANAHI, IRAN, 2006, 88 MINS

Offside is an hilarious, comic and hugely entertaining film, cleverly illustrating the fight for women's rights in Iran, using a non-professional cast. As the stakes increase, the film veers away from tension by showing the sheer absurdity of the situation. It is probably Jafar Panahi's most accessible and spontaneous picture to date.

SUNDAY 22 APRIL 8PM

€7 (INCLUDES TEA/COFFEE) GLÓR FRIENDS: 2 FOR 1

Paradise Now

DIRECTED BY HANY ABU-ASSAD, PALESTINE / NETHERLANDS / GERMANY / FRANCE, 2005, 90 MINS, 12A

Paradise Now is a hard-hitting and provocative account of the final hours of two Palestinian men recruited to carry out a suicide mission. When plans go awry, their convictions are tested as they are forced to choose between life, each other, and fulfilling their missions. A film that forces you off the fence it shines an unexpected light on its tragedy.

SUNDAY 29 APRIL 8PM

€7 (INCLUDES TEA/COFFEE) GLÓR FRIENDS: 2 FOR 1

Glastonbury

DIRECTED BY JULIEN TEMPLE, UK, 2005, 135 MINS

In 1970, a young farmer named Michael Eavis opened his farm to 1,500 people to watch a handful of pop and folk stars perform all weekend long. Glastonbury Festival was born. With footage from every Glastonbury Festival, interweaving images of impromptu art happenings, sceptical locals, and stirring performances by music legends, Glastonbury skilfully chronicles the evolution of the longest-running music festival in the world.

Kilkee by Paul Lynam

An exhibition comprising photographs of the sea-side town, Lynam focuses on that which is familiar and enables the viewer to see new aspects of the subject. Lynam previously saw Kilkee as a summer experience, until his camera made him look at its wild, tree-less beauty, rugged grandeur and sense of the desolate. Paul Lynam has had several exhibitions, both solo and group, including the RHA Gallagher Gallery, Dublin, (2004), glór, (2005), and the Civic Theatre, Dublin (2006).

THURSDAY 12 APRIL – SATURDAY 5 MAY
